Bug Report Button Positioning Fix

Issue

The bug report button was overlapping with the CareBot button in the bottom-right corner of the screen, making both buttons difficult to access.

Root Cause

- Bug Report Button: Positioned at `bottom-6 right-6` (1.5rem from bottom and right)
- CareBot Button: Positioned at `bottom-4 right-4` (1rem from bottom and right)
- Both buttons were too close, causing visual overlap and accessibility issues

Solution Implemented

Changes Made

Updated `src/components/bug-report/BugReportButton.tsx` :

Before:

className="fixed bottom-6 right-6 z-50 ..."
After:

className="fixed bottom-24 right-4 z-50 ... md:right-6"

Positioning Details

- Bug Report Button: Now positioned at `bottom-24` (6rem = 96px from bottom)
- Mobile: `right-4` (aligned with CareBot for consistency)
- Desktop: `md:right-6` (better spacing on larger screens)
- Result: Bug report button sits above CareBot with ~76px clearance

Visual Layout

┌─────────────────────────────┐
│                             │
│                             │
│                             │
│                    [🐛]     │ ← Bug Report (bottom-24, right-4/6)
│                             │
│                    [💬]     │ ← CareBot (bottom-4, right-4)
└─────────────────────────────┘

Benefits

✅ No Overlap: Both buttons are clearly separated with adequate spacing
✅ Professional Layout: Stacked vertically on the right side
✅ Mobile-Responsive: Aligned at right-4 on mobile, right-6 on desktop
✅ Accessibility: Both buttons easily clickable without conflict
✅ Consistent Design: Maintains the floating button pattern
